

OUR COMMITMENT TO ENVIRONMENT

“Relationships Matter, Experience Counts, Trust Delivers

Zakumi Consulting is committed to being a leading environmentally responsible organisation, acting in a sustainable way, and minimising our environmental impact.

We recognise the critical importance of caring for the environment for the future generations.

In providing our services we aim to play a role in building strong organisations and communities across Australia. People, organisations and communities who will protect, sustain and restore our natural environment and resources. Zakumi will do this by:

- Minimising waste by evaluating operations and ensuring they are as efficient as possible
- Actively promoting recycling and reuse both internally and amongst customers and suppliers
- Sourcing and choosing products that minimise environmental impact
- Implementing a training program for staff and contractors that raises awareness of environmental issues and enlist their support in improving Zakumi’s performance
- Choosing sustainable transport options for our day to day work , with a preference for walking, cycling or using public transport
- Including quadruple bottom line planning outcomes for all our planning services. The quadruple bottom line takes into consideration the following factors:
  1. Environmental
  2. Social
  3. Cultural (including governance)
  4. Economic.
- Actively encouraging public education & awareness – for our staff, volunteers, members, participants, partners and other stakeholders on factors impacting on environmental sustainability
